Dear Patient,

Proposed coming together of Harold Road Surgery and Beaconsfield Road Surgery

We are writing to inform you of potential changes to our GP service which will ensure you continue to receive high quality care now and in the future.

The partners at Harold Road Surgery and Beaconsfield Road Surgery are proposing to come together to form a single organisation, while keeping their existing surgeries open.

Under the proposal, the practices will continue to provide GP services in their original locations and patients will still be able to book appointments with their current doctor. The intention is for the premises to remain unchanged with services delivered from both sites but operating under a shared management team.

There is no need for patients registered at either surgery to do anything, your care will continue as usual and your access to services will continue uninterrupted.

The partners at Harold Road Surgery and Beaconsfield Road Surgery are confident that they will work well together and will benefit from a larger workforce as the two practice teams come together. The plans to merge means all patients will have access to a wider range of services and a choice of which surgery they would like to attend for face-to-face appointments.

We understand that you may have suggestions or questions about the proposed merger, and we would like to hear from you, please visit our websites to read the FAQs or find a printed copy in the surgery. If you have any feedback or concerns, please use contact details below and complete our survey on the practice website:
